

Dr Red Ruby Scarlet is an activist, early childhood teacher-researcher, consultant, artist and academic. Red has been working in early childhood for over 25 years and is devoted to creative, imaginative, inclusive practices that promote dignity and integrity in early childhood. Red has developed curriculum and learning frameworks nationally and internationally. She has won numerous awards for her teaching and advocacy.

Red has published widely foregrounding the stories of the numerous 'teacher-research' projects she has lead and contributed to across the world. She is committed to raising the voices of early childhood teachers and educators through telling and writing their own stories. She has always been part of diverse educational communities. She is a highly sought leader and mentor in the early childhood profession. Red has also been engaged in performing arts throughout her life and has qualifications in drama, performing arts , ballet and Irish dancing from Trinity College, EDTA and AMEB.

Red is the Creative Director of MultiVerse Publishing and the Founding Chair of the Social Justice In Early Childhood Foundation and partner of The Aboriginal Early Childhood Collective. She is an ABC Play School Consultant, one of the architects of the Early Years Learning Framework, and a consultant in the Development of the National Quality Framework.

Red works one day a week face to face as an early childhood teacher at Clovelly Child Care Centre in Sydney.
